The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

"Delenda est Carthago"

A city sovereign in the golden West,
  But yesterday magnificent in pride!
Today the wail of anguish from her breast
  Wakes echoes to each mighty ocean's tide

A wail of anguish wrung out by the flames
  That licked her splendors level to the dust,
And blazoned her's the chief of ill-starred names,
  That history holds a melancholy trust.

That world-wide wonder of her sudden rise
  That mocked at fable and enchantment's art,
Is peerless now no more in our sad eyes
  That see her glories in a dream depart.

Her palaces were poems wrought in stone—
  Her marts, like Egypt's, for the world poured grain;
Her prairies girt her with a golden zone;
  Her fame seemed that of Carthage come again.

But Roman legions at Chicago's breast,
  Hurled no red bolts that hapless Carthage rent;
In peace the hot cup to her lips was prest,
  And shrieking to her funeral pyre she went.

O day of horror! day of ruthless woe,
  That stripped the West's young queen of all her pride;
Her stately domes and lofty towers laid low,
  And whelmed her homes in terror's crimson tide.

Checked are the currents of her boundless trade,
  Her giant grainaries smoke with smouldering wheat;
Her daughters in her silks no more arrayed,
  Half clad and homeless, shiver on the street.

If of her magic growth her heart beat proud,
  And in her stores and stocks she took delight—
If rivals lightly called her fast and loud,
  None grudge her or pity in her plight.

Proud but beneficent, and fast to spend
  The easy gold her skill was swift to make;
Of arts and toils, at royal rate the friend,
  And wisdom's love for its own sweet sake.

Ah luckless queen—her strength and beauty scarred.
  She lies today on ashes for her bed;
And all the land in her despoil was marred,
  And all its joy in her despair is dead.

The East and West their eager hands stretch forth
  To pour their wine and oil at her [illegible] feet,
In love and largess blend the South and North—
  A people's pain and pity sweet to meet.

Her sons are crumbled greatness will rebuild,
  When the blanched terror flies [illegible] ing lips;
And the glad glow of pride again shall gild
  Their queen's fair face, now passed in [illegible] eclipse. [William C. Richards.

IGNORANCE OF QUACK DOCTORS AND NOSTRUM MAKERS.

Through the ignorance of the Quack Doctor, knowing no other remedy, he relies upon Mercury, and gives it to all his patients in Pills, Drops, &c., so the Nostrum Maker, equally ignorant, adds to his so-called Extracts, Specific, Antidote, &c., both relying upon its effects in curing a few in a hundred, it is trumpeted in various ways throughout the land; but, alas! nothing is said of the balance; some of whom die, others grow worse, and are left to linger and suffer for months, or years, until relieved or cured, if possible, by competent physicians.

BUT ALL QUACKS ARE NOT IGNORANT.

Notwithstanding the foregoing facts are known to some Quack Doctors and Nostrum Makers, yet, regardless of the life and health of others, there are those among them who will perjure themselves, contradicting giving mercury to their patients or [illegible] [illegible]

The JOURNAL contains a full report of local NEWS, will record all real estate transactions, and give especial attention to improvements in and about the city. Price two dollars a year.

The Death of General Anderson.

Another of our brave soldiers is dead.—The man upon whom all eyes were turned whom the nation depended in those trying days, when we had no means of self defence, has gone to his final rest. The valiant defence of Fort Sumpter during that disastrous contest in '61 has made the name of General Robert Anderson immortal. The one faithful man among that host of generals, he showed that the loyal cause could and would be maintained. To no other man does the country owe a deeper debt of gratitude than to the hero of Fort Sumpter.—But the more brilliant display of military genius later in the war, and the greater deeds which came after have partly eclipsed the faithful commander of a handful of men and his brave battle with such fearful odds, while shut up in that beleagued fort. But when the true history of this great conflict is written out the deeds of General Anderson will have their due prominence. He was born in Kentucky in 1806, graduated at West Point in 1826, joined the artillery, and served in the various wars with the Indians and in Mexico, and was instructor and inspector at West Point for two years. He distinguished himself in the battle of El Molino del Rey, and was made Major therefor. The war broke out and found him in command of Fort Sumpter with only 75 men with which to hold the position against 7000 bloodthirsty southerners. How well he did his duty we all know. He held various other commands during the rebellion, but resigned in 1863 from ill health. He went to Europe for his health, and died at Nice on Thursday last.

In Close Quarters.

The great prince of thieves in New York is getting into deep water. Two million dollars bail is no small sum, and the imposing that amount upon the criminal would look as though his accusers mean business, and, if as O'Conor states, the proof of his guilt can be clearly shown, he will be in closer quarters still, before long. Meanwhile, what must be hard for the poor (?) man to bear, that host of fawning friends which he had in the days of his prosperity have all deserted him, and what is worse still, they are hurling very abusive language at the man now that he is no longer likely to have the loaves and fishes at his command with which to reward them.

The World says: "The arch knaves (just think of that, the arch knave) contriver and engineer of the frauds is in a fairway to get his just deserts. If Tweed is elected to the State Senate by his ignorant constituency," he never will be permitted to take his seat. The Sun heads its account of the arrest "The Day of Judgement," &c. &c. On the whole there is hope for honest and law abiding people in New York. Active measures are instituted and it really looks now as though somebody must answer for a port, at least, of the villainy committed there under the shaddow of law.

Thieves' Convention.

Recently an assemblage of the noted thieves and pickpockets of the land was held in Vermont. There these knights of darkness held their midnight council, and agreed upon the measures to be adopted for the promotion and developement of their mystic craft. Here were gathered the great burglars, the bold robbers, who infest New York and other cities, and held secret consultation as to the great work before them, but the prince of thieves was not there. Boss Tweed had other business on his hands at the time, and could not possibly get so far away from New York city. He had however one consolation, if he could not meet in conclave with his brothers of the profession, he could still raise his voice and hold his influence in the halls of the Democracy. Right to the point, are the remarks of the New York Citizen on this subject, and these remarks are all the more valuable coming as they do from the pen of an honest Democrat.

"After the Rochester Convention, what can surprise us in any action of our professional thieves? If the amateurs are permitted to blazon forth their iniquity in public assembly, under the sanction of a great political party, why should not the real artists have their turn? They have this merit at least, that they sail under no false colors. If they steal for a living, they do not pretend to do anything else, and they do their bludgeoning and pistoling in person and not by proxy. Besides the hypocritical rascality which has emptied the city's coffers, ordinary housebreaking seems almost like a virtue. By all means let the burglars' conventions go on. But they should meet next year not in Vermont, but in New York, and as near as possible in time and place to the next Tammany Convention. This would save trouble to many, who, like Ryan, the convicted swindler, for example, might be delegated to both conventions. And if we may be permitted to advise the excellent cracksmen, it would be a delicate compliment to elect Boss Tweed as their next President—that is, if more pressing engagements up the river at Albany or elsewhere do not detain that admirable man and astute politician.

Perhaps while they were about it they were about it they might also diverge from more legitimate pursuits into the familiar sphere of politics and nominate a candidate for the Presidency—let us say that unknown master of their craft who put up the job to steal the vouchers. Why not? He would command as much respect, and possibly as many votes, as any Tammany candidate. And he would have, besides, the great advantage that he might break into the White House if votes were wanting. Who is to head the Thieves' ticket for 1872?"

Edward Rupert Humphreys Jr.

Our obituary column today contains the notice of the death of a young man, who became favorably known to many of our citizens on the occasions of his coming here to visit his parents. In sympathy with whom, in their great grief, no less than as a deserved tribute to departed worth, we desire to record the esteem and respect which, we learn, were entertained for Edward Rupert Humphreys, Jr., (son of Dr. Humphreys of the R. Island University school in this city,) by a very large circle of friends in Boston and in New York. In the former city he was for some years in the old established house of Samuel May & Sons. Subsequently he became cashier, and then head clerk in the firm of Warren, Kidder & Co., bankers and brokers, New York. Last year he was induced by the flattering offers of a large firm in Salt Lake city, to accept an appointment under them, although his family and friends feared the western life would be too trying for his delicate health. While in charge of one of the mines of this company, he was taken ill, some seven weeks since with what is known there as "mountain fever," eventually determining in typhoid, which proved fatal on the 26th. inst. It is testified by all that knew him, that he was most faithful and conscientious in business, a cultivated and refined christian gentleman, a good son, a good brother, and a good husband; and, though thus taken away so early in life, it may honestly be said of him, "Multis ille bonis flebilis occidit" "He has died lamented by many good men."

But Partial Justice.

Rosenzweig, the author of the trunk murder, has been sentenced to Sing Sing for seven years, which is the extent of the punishment allowed by law for his crime. It is well that so much of justice can be obtained from a New York Court. For seven years this pest of humanity will be removed from society and deprived of a chance to ply his infamous trade. Some slight warning, too, will his punishment be for others likewise engaged in this accursed business. Seven years of confinement, what a punishment for such a guilty wretch! The law condemns the murderer to suffer death whether he madly take the life of his victim in a moment of passion, or through ignorance. Here is a murderer, neither ignorant of the law, nor compelled by angry passions to do the foul deed, but one who for his daily employment makes murder his profession. His crime was actually and morally murder. And to his crime he had superadded a superfluous and wanton brutality which made a common murderer who kills from passion or for gain respectable by his side. His demeanor in prison and in court, from the sickening cant with which he refused to take measures in his own defence upon the Jewish Sabbath, to the stony callosity with which he handled the cerements of his victim and the impassive impudence with which he received his sentence, was all such as to show a two-legged beast who could not be other than a standing threat against society while he was in it. The only duty of society towards such a man is to rid itself of him.

The Yachting Season.

The New York Standard says, the race between the Dauntless and Dreadnaught will probably close the yachting season. The Autumn winds begin to blow, and heavy seas are tumbling over Sandy Hook, and sea going is no longer a pleasure. The victory of the Dauntless over the Livonia was a proper ending of one of the most brilliant seasons our yachtmen have known.

The great advance in yachting is due so much to Commodore Bennett, that a word should be said in his honor. The celebrated race across the ocean with the Henrietta was an illustration of his genius and his courage, and seemed to electrify the sporting world. An exploit like this gave Mr. Bennett a prominence as a yachtman, which made his election as Commodore unavoidable. The captain of the Henrietta became, at once, the leading yachtman of the United States.

Commodore Bennett has continued to advance and improve the quality and speed of our yachts, and to make yachting in America as it is in England—preeminently the sport of the gentleman. We understand that next season he will endeavor to take the whole fleet across the ocean and cruise around the British islands and in the Mediterranean. This would be an event as notable in is way as the great ocean race of 1866 and would contribute largely to good feeling between the gentlemen of the two nations. With a man of the enterprise, daring and skill of Com. Bennett at the head of our club, and such officers as Osgood and Douglas, there is no reason why we should not have the best equipped club in the world.

Major General H. W. Halleck has given $100 for the relief of the enlisted men at the military headquarters in Chicago.

Horace Greeley lectured in Middletown, N. Y., last evening, on "Abraham Lincoln," for the benefit of the colored Methodist Episcopal church in that town.

Wm. Barron, of the Anglo Mexican banking house of Barron Bros., San Francisco, and one of the claimants to the New Almaden Quicksilver Mine, died last evening at the age of forty nine.

James McCosh, one of the oldest citizens of Cincinnati, died recently at the age of eighty three years. He came to the place where Cincinnati now stands with his father, from Scotland, in 1795. That city of two hundred and seventy thousand inhabitants grew up under his very eye. He was contemporary of the St. Clairs, the Brunets, the Harrisons, the Longworths, and other pioneers who have mostly long been gathered to their fathers.

About Home.

Thames street is being cleaned.

All nature rejoices in a pleasant day and we rejoice too.

A large number of vessels were in our harbor yesterday.

The churches were generally well attended yesterday.

The new house of Loring Andrews, Esq., on the avenue is to be a mammoth affair.

The Rhode Island Congregational Sabbath school will be held in Providence tomorrow.

The Rhode Island Baptists hold a quarterly meeting at Greenwich today and tomorrow.

Rev. Mr. Hancock preached at the Central Baptist Church yesterday, in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Wheeler.

Rev. Mr. Wilmarth of Boston preached at the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon.

Our coal and stove dealers look happy today and we suppose they have every reason to do so.

Rarely do we find clearer atmosphere than we have experienced yesterday and today.

Mr. T. Mumford Seabury and the employes connected with his store forwarded to Chicago Friday night a mammoth box filled with clothing for those in need.

The people of this city ought not to send their printing out of town to be done when it can be done for less money at home. Patronize home industry.

Our town is by no means as deserted as our neighbors would have people believe.—Signs of life and activity are apparent on every side.

The Rev. Athanase Coquerel, who a few weeks since was in this city, spoke in the Hollis street church in Boston last evening to a crowded audience.

People who wish to pay Wickford a visit this fall must do so before tomorrow night, or else be compelled to go by the way of Providence.

A team heavily loaded with gravel broke down on Thames street Saturday afternoon. Reloading it into another wagon a broken axle tree was the result thereof.

The alarm of fire Saturday night was raised down town and a portion of the fire department were called out. The alarm, as usual was a false one and raised, no doubt, by those who desire a little excitement.

We know a lady in this city who has a chimney which she has had on a kerozene lamp for eight years without its getting broken. They made better chimneys in those days than they do now or else this lady must have been unusually careful.

This is bad weather for bare footed boys, and parents should see to it that their children have good warm boots and shoes to wear. From the number of children we notice about the streets without anything to cover their feet we are lead to believe that every parent or guardian is not as thoughtful as he should be.

DONATIONS.—Collections were taken, yesterday, in several of the churches in aid of the sufferers by fire in the northwestern states. At the Rev. Dr. Thayer's church the amount raised was $546. The collection at the Zion church, taken in the morning, amounted to about $100. These are very generous amounts considering the fact that probably nearly every individual in these congregations has been invited to give to the Chicago Relief Committee.

GENEROUS.—The amount of money subscribed for the aid of those made destitute by fire, in Chicago and the northwestern States, in this city, together with the three thousand given by the City Council, foots up over eighteen thousand two hundred dollars. The value of the clothing and other supplies sent cannot be estimated, but it is not small. The New York & Boston Express Company have forwarded a large number of boxes, bundles and trunks containing articles of much value to the people for whom they were intended. The Narragansett Steamship Company have also had a share in the good work.

Bristol.

The Phoenix says, the October Term of the Court of Common Pleas, within and for the county of Bristol, will commence its session in that town tomorrow morning.

Mr. Robert A. Peck, of that town, took passage for Cuba on Monday last, in the brig Redwood, Captain Melville, which sailed from Newport on the day mentioned.

The Bristol Light Infantry's Armory, recently removed to its new site on Wood street, is to be much improved in appearance by its exterior receiving a good coat o paint.

Fall River.

The news says Capt. Wm. H. H. Borden, formerly of the steamer Canonicus, with his wife and Miss Caroline Borden, daughter of Col. Richard Borden, of this city, sailed on Wednesday, in the steamer Scotia, for Liverpool, intending to spend the winter at Nice and other parts of Southern Europe, for the benefit of Captain Borden's health.

From the Monitor we learn efforts are making in this city to build a hall for public meetings, lectures, entertainments, &c. Since the abandonment of City Hall for this purpose the citizens are now poorly provided for. A large hall would be quite an acquisition. A new Music Hall of large dimensions, has just ben dedicated at North Bridge water.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

This old and popular play, will be performed at the Opera House, next Wednesday night. The Providence Press, of last week, spoke of the performance in that city in the following highly complimentary manner:

This play never seems to grow old, but season after season draws thousands who weep and laugh and are interested in its representation. Mrs. Howard's Topsy is one of the creations of the stage, and never loses its freshness, spirit and fun. Little Minnie Maddern, as the gentle Eva, was very natural and effective, while the St. Clair of Mr. G. C. Howard, the Uncle Tom of Mr. Geo. Mitchell, and the George Harris of Mr. Frank A. Doud, were very good performances. The play won the approval of the audience and was generally very well given.

[For the News.]

NEWPORT, Oct 28, 1871.

Mr. Editor:—A communication having appeared in a recent number of the NEWS in regard to the incarceration of Mary Anne Clark of Tiverton, under the dog law, and having received a communication from there, or rather letters from reliable sources in regard thereto, and knowing your practice of always having your columns open to counter statements, where they may be deemed courteous and of importance, I have thought best to ask a place for this in justice to the select men of the town of Tiverton, the complainant in this case, and the justice who tried it:

The previous article was founded upon the woman's story as I well know, but it would seem that her position was, after all, one of her own seeking rather than forced upon her by the ministry of the law.

The town of Tiverton has enforced the dog law probably more thoroughly than any other town in the State, and in consequence, there has been a good deal of trouble and feeling in regard to the matter, as there always is, in every community a certain class opposed to all law and its enforcement, as an unjust interference with their liberties.

In the year 1869 this woman was complained of, and she was cleared by the complainants "throwing in" his fees and the town's remitting their part. In 1870 the complainant under the law managed to dodge her, and she was clear for another year. This year the registrar received licenses from 125, only five in the town being delinquents, Mrs. Clark being one of them. At the time of her trial; two weeks before she was brought to jail, the complainant offered to pay her fine and costs, provided she would give up the dog which had caused so much trouble, although his estimated bulk is only nine pounds. This she refused to do, acting, however, rather upon the advice of a brother who is a man of some means and who, in a measure, supports her.

These are the simple facts in the case, and it would seem but fair that the town of Tiverton whose inhabitants are law abiding and intelligent should have the benefit of this plain statement.

JUSTITIA.

Charles Scribner.

Donald G. Mitchell, "Ike Marvel," in a letter just published, gives an interesting reminiscence of the late Mr. Charles Scribner:

"I knew Mr. Scribner first somewhere about the year 1847, through the good offices of Geo. H. Colton, the founder and editor of the old, "American Review." I remember that it was upon the steps of the old Brick church Chapel (where were the offices of Baker & Scribner) that I first met him. His countenance was such a mirror of honesty and frankness, and modesty, that he won upon me at once. I could not doubt, and never doubted, any profession that he made. There was no room for guile in any corner of his soul.

I had published a little time before, with the Messrs. Harper, a small book of travels, which he was pleased to speak very kindly of; and when, on a subsequent venture in book making, the Messrs. Harper declined the manuscript, I took it unhesitatingly to my friend of the Brick church Chapel.

He accepted it without any demur, saying to me, that if it was not a success he had a faith that I might some day write something which the public would welcome.

The non success of the book confirmed the business judgement of the Messrs. Harper; but my good friend Mr. Scribner was not disturbed by it, and in the most fortunate ventures that followed, I am sure that he, apart from all business considerations, rejoiced as sincerely as any friend I could name.

It is with a tender and melancholy interest that I look over his letters of that date. His encouragement, his advices, all seem to me to be colored by such brotherly and tender tone, that they are to me the record of a friend, rather than of an associate in business enterprises.

How much I wish now that I had done things that he urged me to do! How much I wish that I had done things that he questioned!

Without excess of literary culture, his instincts were all good, and in business matters his judgement most sound. Then he was so constant, and so faithful, and so true to all the capabilities that lay in him, that he, if any man, deserved success.

There were one or possibly two occasions, in our long intercourse of more than a score of years, in which a little petulance crept into our talk; but I am sure the recollection of it never dwelt with him; and equally sure that I am as free of any galling memory of it as the winds that swept on that fatal day over the mountains by Lucerne.

He was altogether honest, frank, true, and tender-hearted as a woman. I feel a chill creeping over me, whenever I recall the fact that in all my wanderings henceforth in the great Babylon, I shall nevermore have the friendly grasp of his hand, never look on his kindly face again.

Brutal Murder of a Young Woman Her Body Terrible Mutilated.

At an early hour this morning the body of a young woman named Katy Leehan was found lying on that part of Western avenue lying between Francis and Tremont streets. An inspection of the location showed that there had been a terrible struggle, and that it ended in throwing the mutilated body over the fence, near which it was found. The victim had been stopping with a Mrs. Brown, living on the avenue. She left home about half past seven o'clock, and was last seen in company with a young woman at half past nine after which hour she was missed. Although a mystery surrounded the cause of her death, and there is no knowledge of the parties concerned in murdering her, it is supposed that Miss Leehan came to her violent death through jealousy. The body was removed to the Station House, and subsequently handed over to Coroner Allen, who has taken measures to investigate the case.

A stone weighing 15 or 20 pounds was found imbedded in the skull of the corpse, while the wearing apparel was torn badly. Not far from the body was found a stove wrench, partially done up in a paper, and covered with blood. All the circumstances indicate that the murder was premeditated. It also appeared, from information obtained this morning, that the name of the young woman who was in company with Miss Leehan was Ellen Morris, and that they visited a store in Brookline for the purpose of purchasing goods, but finding the store closed they started homeward, and on the way the stopped at a place kept by a Mr. Curry, where they met several young men. Subsequently Miss Morris went on her way, leaving Miss Leehan behind. Miss Leehan was a servant girl. [Boston Traveller, 25th.

The rich State of California, with her immense resources, has become more of an agricultural than a mining region. The value of its cultivated area in 1870 was upwards of one hundred and forty-three millions of dollars. The amount of many crops has doubled in the last ten years. Figures show the magnitude of farming operations on the Pacific coast, and indicate what may be expected in the years to come, when a dense population shall furnish the brain and muscle to make the fertile soil yet more abundantly productive.

The Lancashire Lass.

On Thursday evening this beautiful and highly sustained drama will be produced at the Opera House by W. C. Hober's Metropolitan Troupe in a style unequaled for magnificence and dramatic effect. Mr. Hober is well known to our amusement loving citizens and the mere knowledge of his being the manager of this really excellent troupe is sufficient to fill the Opera House to its utmost capacity. The Lancashire Lass is pronounced by the press and public of New York to be the greatest of sensational dramas of the day. Seats can now be secured at Westcott's Jewelry store.

☞ It is a broad claim in an article of daily and universal use, that it is better and cheaper than any other; but the public has endorsed this claim for boots and shoes made with Cable Screw Wire. The immense demand of the past is steadily augmenting. In our paper may be found a card in relation to these excellent goods.

It is said that if a puff of air were to be blown into a vein of an animal, death would instantaneously follow, because circulation would be stopped.—The blood makes the entire circuit of the human body every seven minutes, and whenever this circulation is impeded or any of its channels are clogged by impurities which ought to be carried off, disease follows—fever or a disorder of liver or kidneys, or scrofula, or dyspepsia. To get at and remove the source of the difficulty use the old and infallible blood purifier, DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. oct16-4w

The Means of Escape.

The fall has many perils for the weak and feeble, and its sudden atmospheric changes are trying to the constitutions of even the robust. The chilling temperature of the nights, as compared with the almost summer warmth of the days, necessarily exercises an unhealthy influence on all who are exposed to it. Hence dysentery, diarrhoea, intermittent fevers, billious attacks, and derangements of all the secretions, are common at this season. The true way to escape them is to meet the causes with a protective and invigorating medicine. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are designed for this exigency.—This powerful vegetable specific relieves the system of all acrid humors, purifies the fluids, tones the secretive organs, promotes healthy evaporation through the pores, increases the activity of the digestive functions, cheers the spirits, and regulates the bowels. To do this is to make the whole body vigorous, and render it proof against the vicissitudes of temperance, and against malaria. A course of the great tonic and alterative is therefore in all cases advisable as a preventive at this season. If, on the other hand, the mischief is already done, and intermittent or remittent fever is actually present, or the liver, bowels, or stomach disordered, there is no medicine so certain to effect a quick and thorough cure as this harmless and agreeable preparation.

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 29th, 1871.
Messrs. FLINT & CO.—Gents:—You ask for my opinion of Old Dr. Warren's Quaker Bitters. As I have never used them I cannot speak from personal knowledge, but the general speech of the people is marked and strong in their favor. I am so far satisfied that they are a pure, safe and effective alternative and tonic, that I have ordered a case of them sent to my aged mother. Their reputation keeps pace with their sales, and as they are scientifically compounded of the best ingredients, they are not to be classed with the great variety of nostrums palmed off on a suffering public by quacks.
Yours truly, Hon. SIDNEY DEAN.

FIFTY YEARS AGO.
What changes in the world we've seen,
Since fifty years ago, or so;
What revolutions there have been,
A host of facts there are to show.
To travel fifty miles a day,
Our fathers found a task indeed;
Two hundred now—or more—we may
Be drawn by the fierce Iron Steed.
The Boys then "dressed" in home-spun "Clothes,"
With cow-hide shoes upon their feet;
But now they're "CLOTHED" at GEORGE FENNO'S,

BETTER—Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 11, 1870.
I have used "Dr. Bullock's Nephreticum" for several months past for a disease of the Kidneys and Bladder of ten years standing. During all that long and gloomy period I suffered at times attacks of the most excruciating pains and tried all kinds of medicines and many eminent physicians, with little relief at times, yet with no permanent, lasting benefit. At last I was induced to try "Nephreticum," and after continuing its use for a considerable period of time, I began to be benefited, and now I feel satisfied that I have obtained permanent, and, I trust, lasting relief. I still take "Nephreticum" and give to my friends. For a year past I have had no severe attacks of disease. I feel it has given me a new lease of life, and I most cheerfully and confidently recommend "Nephreticum" as a reliable, safe and sure remedy for diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.
The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. This derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucus and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is Schenck's Mandrake Pills. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.
The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.
The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regain health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.
I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age.—This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.
It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cool and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.
I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influences. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.
The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutricious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.
I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.
About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the north-east corner of Sixth and Arch streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.
Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

The Loan System

EMPORIUM.

The system of loaning goods to be paid for in stated weekly or monthly installments is a benefit to the purchaser and is a peculiar feature of our establishment. It is a project of our own, prepared for the accommodation of our numerous and increasing customers, and at the same time to protect ourselves against losses by any dishonest parties who might be inclined to take advantage of our desire to give a long credit to deserving persons of limited means. The system is of great value to parties desiring to commence housekeeping, or who may wish to replenish their dwellings this fall, but whose present means are so limited, that they cannot pay at once for which they wish to purchase.

This system gives time and provides for making payments at stated periods in the future. Many persons of limited means, or who have other presses for their money, can pay in future installments for such articles as they may need for the furnishing of their house and not feel the expenditure. When the last payment is made the property becomes their own by a regular receipted bill of sale.

This system does not enhance prices like the old irresponsible credit system, when the honest customer has to pay for the bad debts of the less scrupulous, the unfortunate, or the dishonest who fail to pay! Under this system every customer pays for what he gets; we suffer no loss, and can afford to place our goods upon the market with the very lowest margin of profits.

By this system we are enabled to benefit the worthy of limited income and not injure ourselves. It is simply a system of guaranteed payments, the goods being for a specified time the guarantee of the obligation of the customer.

This system has been a practical working daily success at our EMPORIUM on BROAD STREET for years. Hundreds and even thousands of families having been placed in the possession of comfortable and even richly furnished dwellings, who but for this system of weekly and monthly payments would never have secured them.

Desirous of extending the benefit of this system to others equally worthy, we invite persons desirous of purchasing

A Call for Laborers at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28

The Tribune, this morning, editorially announces that five hundred to six hundred additional brick and stone masons can find employment in Chicago through the winter, at from four to five dollars a day, and that two thousand carpenters can find employment through the winter at high wages. In March there will be employment for twice this number on both trades, also workers on wood, iron, plumbers, gas fitters and all kinds of metal workers will be wanted. Thousand of laborers, who are now starving in New York and other cities, can find work at good wages, with comfortable homes for themselves and families, on farms within one hundred miles of Chicago.

NATIONAL THANKSGIVING DAY.

Proclamation by the President.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.

The President has issued the following:

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES:

A Proclamation.

The procession of the seasons has again enabled the husbandman to garner the fruits of successful toil. Industry has been generally well rewarded. We are at peace with all nations, and tranquility, with few exceptions, prevails at home. Within the past year we have in the main been free from ills which elsewhere have affected our kind.

If some of us have had calamities there should be an occasion for sympathy with the sufferers; of resignation on their part to the will of the Most High, and of rejoicing to the many who have been more favored.

I therefore recommend that on Thursday, the thirtieth day of November next, the people meet in their respective places of worship, and there make the usual acknowledgements to Almighty God for the blessings He has conferred upon them, for their merciful exemption from evil, and invoke His protection and kindness for their less fortunate brethren whom, in His wisdom, He has deemed it best to chastise.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this twenty eighth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one, and of the independence of the United States the ninety-sixth.

U. S. GRANT.

Josh Billings Under Oath.

Josh Billings being duly sworn, testifys az follers:

Eight words wielded and hav mutch ov enny thing sell over. Menny a yung feller haz found it ... in arithmetick by trieing tew git a number 3 foot into a number 6 boot.

Virtue, in one respekt, is like muny. That which we hav tew work the hardest for sticks tew us the best.

I hav often herd there waz men who knew more than they could tell, but i never met one. I hav often met thoze who could tell a grate deal more than they did kno, and waz willing tew swear to it besides.

Hope haz made a grate menny blunders, but there iz one thing about her that i always did like—she means well.

Sum people are good simply because they are tew lazy to be wicked, and others, because they hant got a good chance.

There iz one thing that i am not only certain, but proud ov—there iz more people in this world who hav changed from bad to good, than from good to bad.

In muny, interest phollers the principal; in morals, principle often phollws the interest.

Yu will notis one thing—the devil seldum offers tew go into partnership with a bizzy man, but you will often see him offer tew jine the lazy man, and furnish all the kapital.

I dont kno, after all, but it iz jist about az well tew git abuv yure bizzness as it iz tew hav yure bizzness git abuv yu.

In time ov peace prepare for war. This iz the way sum familys liv all the time.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

They are not a vile Fancy Drink, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing, also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No System of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.
